COYOTE AWARENESS information provided by FWC

Did you know coyotes are in every FL county?

Coyotes have been seen in our area but they rarely come in to contact with people. However, given the opportunity, they may prey upon unattended pets or livestock. Keep pets safe from interactions with coyotes and other wildlife:

- Walk dogs on a short (6-foot or less) leash and supervise them while outside, especially at night.
- Keep cats indoors. Keep in mind a screened porch is not secure from coyotes and other wildlife.
- Use electric fencing to protect small livestock such as chickens and goats.

Coyotes eat a wide variety of foods, including fruit, insects, rodents, and other small mammals, but will also eat garbage and pet food if given access. To discourage coyotes and other wildlife from lingering near your home, secure your trash, remove fallen fruit, and feed pets indoors. If you see a coyote nearby, you can scare it away by waving your arms in the air and yelling loudly. Noisemakers, like air horns, work too.

If you are experiencing conflicts with coyotes contact your regional FWC office for more guidance: <http://myfwc.com/contact/fwc-staff/regional-offices/>
